

As we spring into April, it's the perfect time to embrace renewal, rejuvenation, and a fresh start. This season invites us to refresh not just our routines, but our confidence too.

Whether that's exploring the latest innovations in aesthetic treatments at our Bloom into Beauty Event, preparing your skin for swimsuit season with our new DiamondGlow special, or adding subtle enhancements like hand rejuvenation with Radiesse, the goal is always the same: natural, balanced results that help you feel confident and radiant.

This month, we're also celebrating the recognition our team has received in Capital Region Living Magazine's Bestie Awards; a reminder that the trust and support of our patients and besties is what makes all of this possible.

April is full of opportunities to treat yourself with intention, because confidence isn't about doing more, it's about doing what's right for you!

Hands often give away our age faster than our face... but a little rejuvenation can make a big difference.

These beautiful before & after images show hand rejuvenation with Radiesse, performed by PA Juliet.

Radiesse is an injectable treatment that restores lost volume in the backs of the hands while also stimulating your body's natural collagen production. That means you see immediate improvement, and the skin continues to look smoother and more youthful over time.

As we age, the skin on the hands naturally becomes thinner, making veins and tendons more noticeable. Radiesse helps create a softer, fuller appearance while improving overall skin quality.
